LETTER TO FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION MADE PUBLIC; SUGGESTS PROBE BE MADE

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Investigation of interests working for the Boulder Canyon Dam project was demanded in a letter from Gov. G. W. P. Hunt to the Federal Trade Commission, made public today by Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona. Earlier, before the house rules committee, Representative Douglas, Democrat, Arizona, charged that the city of Los Angeles was financing a lobby on behalf of the bill. Hunt suggested that inasmuch as the commission is investigating the power lobby it should also inquire into the lobby befriending the pending Johnson-Swing bill. "I charge there is a conspiracy to rob the state of Arizona of valuable resources, to make them available to power companies in California and that enormous sums are being spent to employ lobbyists, lawyers, engineers and newspapermen and to pay for propaganda," Hunt stated. Hunt suggested several hundred witnesses be called, including members of the Los Angeles Public service, light, power and water boards; officials of various associations working for the Johnson-Swing bill; city officials of San Diego; editors and auditors of the Los Angeles Record, Examiner, Times, Herald and Express; William Randolph Hearst, publisher; the International News service, auditors and managers; "Mr. Sidney Howard," and the editors and auditors of newspapers associated with the Scripps-Howard chain of papers, and many others. (Hunt probably referred to Roy W. Howard, co-publisher of the Scripps-Howard newspapers.)

FUNDAMENTALISTS ARE FRUSTRATED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 2.—An effort on the part of fundamentalists to air their grievances before the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here was frustrated today when delegates voted to refer to a standing committee a petition asking for an investigation of church schools and colleges for their alleged modernistic teachings. The vote was considered by church leaders as significant of the liberal views of a majority of the delegates, especially on questions of church doctrine.

MIAMI, Fla., May 2.—Los Angeles was chosen as the 1929 convention city of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at a session of the Imperial Council of the order today. Time of next year's convention was not decided, but it is expected to be the latter part of May. M'Adoo Loses Own Ward To Sen. Reed

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—William Gibbs McAdoo, supporting Walsh in the California presidential primary, failed to carry his own ward for the Mountain senator. Precinct 304, in Berkeley Square where McAdoo resides gave Reed seven votes. Smith six and Walsh six. Hoover polled 119 votes in the section.

Says Thirsty Republicans Named Smith

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Thirsty Republicans who registered as Democrats gave Al Smith his victory in the California presidential primary. Milton K. Young, chairman of the California committee of the Reed for President club, said here today. "The result of the vote cast in the primary election indicates clearly that this was not a Democratic primary wherein candidates have contested between themselves," Young declared. "Instead it was a primary upon the wet and dry question on the one hand, by Smith and Walsh, while Senator Reed was running upon Democratic principles and espousing honesty in government. "The election was distorted beyond resemblance of a Democratic primary by thirsty Republicans who had enrolled under the Smith banner. "It remains to be seen whether Southern and Western Democrats will submit to such deceptions upon the Democratic party."

NOMINATION OF SMITH ASSURED LEADERS CLAIM

Sweeping Victory in This State Yesterday Gives Him 500 Delegates

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Governor Al Smith's selected delegate strength passed the 500 mark today as a result of his unexpectedly one sided victory in California. Tabulation by the United Press of chosen Democratic delegates gives Smith 504—just 46 short of a simple majority in the convention and 230 short of the two thirds majority required for the nomination. The returns also added materially to the strength of secretary of commerce Hoover in the Republican race. The tabulation showed him with 278 delegates minimum, including only those instructed and uninstructed delegates who have announced their intention of voting for him on the first ballot. The Republican tabulation shows: Herbert Hoover 279, instructed 182, Georgia 16; Colorado 2; Michigan 1.

"The result in California exceeds our expectations," Sen. R. Van Naman, chairman of the pre-convention subcommittee for Governor Al Smith, said today. "It indicates the intense patriotism which exists throughout the country for Governor Smith and which makes him a first class campaigner."

ca's own brave fliers.

At Bolling Field

The fliers had arrived by train early today. Later they went to Bolling field, where the German ambassador, the Irish minister, Secretary of State Kellogg and others including Colonel Lindbergh, welcomed them. Secretary of State Kellogg spoke briefly of a greeting and a recognition of their valor.

From the field they went to their hotel for a press conference, in which they announced plans for a westward flight, visiting Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Ottawa and Philadelphia before—as they now plan—flying back to Europe.

Then at noon came the supreme moment of their day.

They were escorted to the president's business offices in the White House and announced to the chief executive by Colonel Latrobe, his military aide.

Awarded Medals

From the business offices the party adjourned to the South lawn of the vast White House grounds and there the president presented the crosses which had been hurried here from Philadelphia by plane.

From the White House the fliers proceeded to the National Press club for a brief reception and then returned to the White House for luncheon as the president's guests.

It was a small party that gathered at the president's table. German Ambassador von Prittwitz and Irish Minister Smiddy, with Secretary of State Kellogg, Colonel Latrobe, Capt. Wilson Brown, naval aide, and Private Secretary Sanders formed the group.

HOOVER GIVEN HEAVY BALLOT IN CALIFORNIA

3679 precincts gave Smith 43,787; Reed 30,711, and Walsh 25,388.

These counties were Imperial, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Diego, Santa Barbara and Ventura.

The returns available left Walsh behind Reed for second place by more than 5000 votes.

Wins 51 Counties

On the basis of the nearly complete returns, Smith was ahead in 51 out of 58 counties in the state.

Reed was leading in three counties and Walsh in three, while Alpine county, the smallest county in the state, failed to report a single Democratic vote. Alpine county cast 24 votes for Hoover.

Other population centers in Northern California returned a heavy vote for Smith along with San Francisco, while the trend in the rural districts was practically the same.

In some precincts in San Francisco Walsh received but two or three votes. There were a few rural precincts where he failed to get one.

Republican leaders were jubilant over the strong showing of Hoover, who polled approximately three times as many votes as the entire field of Democratic candidates.

They believe this demonstration by Republicans of the far West will greatly strengthen Hoover's position in the national convention at Kansas City.

Hails Victory

Smith campaign managers hailed his California victory today as definite assurance that he will be the presidential nominee of the party this year.

They pointed to the result of the primary vote as evidence that the opposition of McAdoo who fought Smith to a standstill in the Democratic National convention of 1924, has been overcome even in McAdoo's home state.

The total registered Republican vote for the election was 1,354,514 while that of the Democratic party was 465,793.

Commenting on the showing of the secretary of commerce in Tuesday's balloting, Charles L. Neumiller, chairman of the Republican State convention said today:

"Hoover has rolled up a most remarkable vote in California. Most remarkable it is for the fact that there was absolutely no contest and the election of his delegation to the national convention was certain."

"It was a wonderful record, indicative of the feeling in our own state and reflecting the sentiment, I am convinced, throughout the country for his nomination."

James D. Phelan, former senator who will head the California delegation to the Democratic National convention, early issued the following statement on Smith's victory:

"The Democrats of California at a critical time in the campaign have, I believe, as in the case of the election of President Wilson, performed a great and necessary service."

"They have routed the factionists who had put up candidates to conceal their real purpose and have met a decisive defeat."

"California has gone overwhelmingly for Governor Smith because his human appeal was irresistible."

"It promises the defeat of the other pretenders in the general election who will endeavor to camouflage the corrupt history of the recent past which cannot be concealed or condoned."

The companies comprising the Bell system are spending about $1,000,000 a day in construction work during 1935.

School Scenes On Santa Ana Cards

Santa Ana boosters will be able to send post cards to their friends in the east which will depict scenes at the Santa Ana high school, according to Orville Schuchardt, president of the Boys' federation at the school.

Schuchardt stated that the federation has chosen a series of pictures of the campus, arcades, and buildings. The pictures were presented by W. H. Clayton, vice president of the high school, who is an amateur photographer.

STRANGE PAPER IS BOUND FOR STATE LIBRARY

BY EARL H. LEIF
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special To The Register)

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—Binding of the "Labor Knight," the strangest newspaper ever printed in California, was completed this week by the California state library. The unusual documents were thus saved for posterity and the name of Carl Dryden Browne rescued from perennial oblivion.

Engraver, sculptor, editor, newsboy, artist, caricaturist, publisher and printer of his newspaper, and friend of governors, state officials, and all the political lights of the state capitol a score of years ago. All these things were Carl Dryden Browne, an eccentric radical who lived, like a "Phantom of the Opera," in the basement of the state capitol for some 10 years. None knew where he obtained those commodities which are designed to fill the aching void within. He neither stole, nor begged nor partook of the contents of nearby garbage cans to obtain food. It was known, too, that Carl was a gourmet of no mean order.

Carl published the "Labor Knight" in his domicile in the cellar of the capitol. The paper was published "wherever Carl Browne goes and whenever he chooses," and the chief editorial object was "to abolish poverty forever." To this end he entered upon arduous and scintillating discourses on the foibles of capitalistic government. Many of his editorials were masterpieces of pure English and elegant style.

The Labor Knight was printed on any kind of paper Carl could obtain without expenditure of his non-existent personal funds. In some manner he obtained the paper so necessary to the output of his sheet. Joe Beard, captain of state police, once caught Carl pilfering paper hand towels from the rest rooms of the capitol. Joe smiled up his sleeve whilst giving Carl verbal chastisement for his deed, but Carl got the paper anyhow.

Carl's unique journal was embellished with numerous caricatures of the governor and state senators, or anyone who came within his ken, regardless of rank or station. He at times indulged in unmitigated animadversion of the politicians of the day when the cause of labor was jeopardized—a sort of watchdog he was.

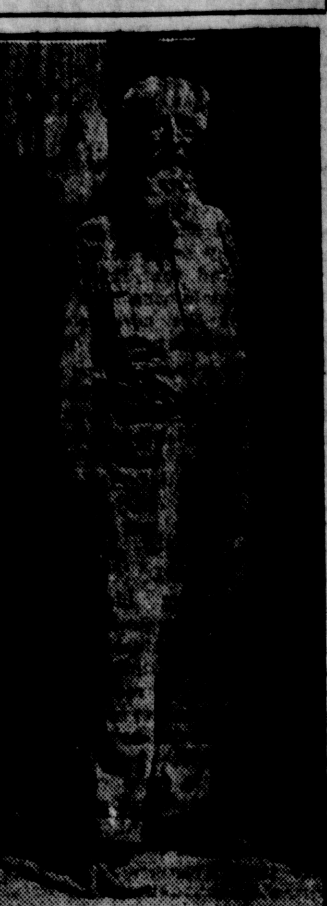

Congressman Kent, who died recently, brought Carl to Washington in 1913, and there Carl finished an oration on the steps of the national capitol which he had started 26 years ago and was interrupted by the police. When Carl died, on January 16, 1914, the Congressman Kent had him buried in state at one of the exclusive cemeteries of the country's capital.

According to Miss Mudora Garret, head of the California department of the state library, who knew Carl well, there is no existing biography of this famous old character. And therein lies a "tip" for some aspiring author in search of a subject upon which to expend his talent.

Some of the crack express trains in this country are connected with the nation-wide telephone system up to the last minute before the train pulls out of the station.

ARCHITECT AND HARDING TELLS ENGINEER TALK VIEWS ON RACE AT S. A. SCHOOL FOR PRESIDENT

Fay Spangler, architect, and W. W. Hoy, civil engineer, presented the latest vocational talks to be heard by Santa Ana high school seniors. The talks were included in a series of addresses which has been arranged by George B. Holmes, head of the high school vocational department.

The hardest thing about architecture, according to Spangler, is getting a position and keeping it. He also pointed out that it is necessary to have a natural aptitude for the work.

Educational qualifications include a high school and at least a junior college education, as well as two or three years of apprenticeship in an architect's office, he said. The architect is expected to have a knowledge of all construction problems and he must also understand lettering, Spangler stated.

An average wage is from $50 to $75 per week while a high wage is $800 a week.

He said that there is a good chance for advancement in the work.

The civil engineer must apply science to all present day conditions, he must have the ability to put over irrigation projects, land surveying, and to make one dollar go as far as two dollars would in the hands of a "bungler," according to Hoy.

The advantages of the occupation are that the work is mostly out of doors and the engineer is thrown on his own resources, he said, and the disadvantages are that an engineer can have no home.

Personal qualifications of an engineer are that he must be a business man as well as a scientist, a man of action, and absolutely honest. A college education is required, Hoy declared.

The beginning wage for a civil engineer varies from $175 to $200 a month and this advances until he reaches the average income of $5000. Men with exceptional ability often receive a much larger salary, Hoy said.

Hoy pointed out that the field is crowded as there are about 60,000 students in the United States planning to go in for the work. However, there is a reasonable chance for advancement, he said.

An interesting fact connected with this profession is that at least 95 per cent of the city managers in this country are civil engineers, Hoy stated.

Dr. G. T. Harding, father of the late President Harding, would have cast his ballot for Herbert Hoover at the primary election yesterday had he been eligible to vote in California, he said today.

The success of Al Smith, governor of New York, in the election here, was not commented on by Dr. Harding, but he is known to favor a dry occupant of the White House.

Dr. and Mrs. Harding have been visiting for several months with his daughter, Mrs. Charity M. Remsburg, and his son-in-law, H. M. Remsburg, 1701 North Main street, but have not been in Santa Ana long enough to be qualified to go to the polls.

It had been in his home at Marion, Ohio, Dr. Harding would have voted for Frank Lowden, former governor of Illinois, he said. He is a personal friend of Lowden and believes he would make an excellent chief executive.

The death of Senator Willis, of Ohio, deprived Dr. Harding of the opportunity to support his favorite candidate, he said. He had hoped to be in Ohio to give his support to the late Senator Willis, but his death resulted in a change of plans. Dr. and Mrs. Harding probably will return to Marion some time this month.

ACTIVITIES OF S. A. CHAMBER TOLD AT MEET

Seventy-five members present last night at the dinner meeting of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce gave enthusiastic endorsement to the program of major activities outlined for the organization for the present year and for future years. A number of important projects were suggested by members last night with the result that the list of major activities was increased to 12. They are as follows:

Promotion of a civic center for Santa Ana, considered the most important project requiring immediate attention.

Development of major highways into Santa Ana, with special attention to Century boulevard and Manchester avenue.

Definite zoning program in Santa Ana for a period of at least five years.

Uniform planting of trees on the streets of Santa Ana.

A public park, stadium and civic auditorium.

Advertising of Santa Ana as the ideal home city with climatic conditions that appeal to home owners.

New public library building. Development of industrial and Santa Ana by encouraging buying of home-made products.

Forum meetings to coordinate all groups in the city in a program of progressive advancement of the city.

Development of Orange county harbor.

Development of air ports for planes and dirigibles.

Among those speaking on the subject of activities were James Irvine, A. M. Serrano, W. H. Vandewater, L. D. Coffing and J. K. Harman.

The meeting was held at St. Ann's inn, where a chicken dinner was served.

Special entertainment consisted of exhibition dancing by Gloria Cien and Thomas Carl Sutton, with Mrs. Sutton playing for them, and a group of vocal numbers by Madame Anita Willy, the latter being accompanied by Miss Mildred Marchant.

Clyde Downing, president of the chamber, made an address in which he urged community co-operation in efforts to put over the chamber program.

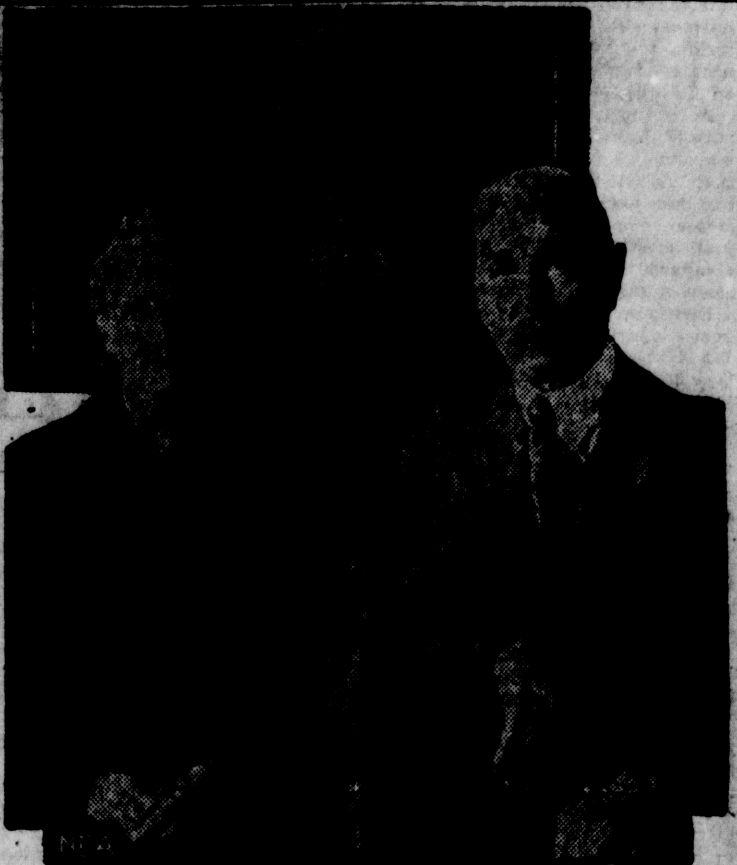

New committees for the year were announced by the president.

FEW BANK BANDITS IN PORTLAND, ORE.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 2.—Portland has gained an international reputation as an unhealthy city for bank robbers, as indeed it is. In two recent robberies the bandits have been killed but the shooting was done by prepared bank cashiers.

However, it remained for the preparedness campaign put into effect by Captain John T. Moore, inspector of the Portland police force, to gain the real notoriety.

"The prevention of crime is the fundamental principle of all police work."

There are few policemen on the force so old that once at least they did not hear this epigram expressed by the efficient veteran inspector. In line with this campaign Captain Moore some time ago armed the policemen in the bank zone with short-barreled automatic shot guns. None of them has ever been fired. However, some time ago a photographer asked Patrolman Pierce if he might take his picture as the officer stood with gun in hands. Pierce acquiesced. Recently the picture appeared in a London magazine with the following caption:

"Guarding a bank lobby (Pierce never heard of one) in Portland, Ore., where there have been so many robberies that policemen are stationed at each bank with 'pump shot guns' and ordered to shoot on suspicion."

Electricity Will Ring Old Bells

SANTA CLARA, Calif., May 2.—Mission bells that have been rung each evening for a century and a half will be operated by electricity in the future.

King Carlos V of Spain presented the bells to Santa Clara Mission with the request that they be tolled nightly and this has been done regularly for more than 150 years.

Although the mission became the nucleus for a university, it remained a sanctuary of the past until it was destroyed by fire a short time ago.

A new mission is being built and the old bells are to be installed in the belfry. It will be possible to ring them by pushing the button of an electric circuit.

In addition to the nightly ringing requested by King Carlos, students of Santa Clara university will be called to their classes by the sound of the bells.

CITY VALUES MAY SET NEW HIGH RECORD

Assessment of Orange county property is well underway today under the direction of the county assessor and is progressing faster and more satisfactorily than for many years, according to reports reaching Ray L. Riley, California state controller.

The assessment process, which started March 5, 1928, will take some time to complete as it is a "big job," Riley says, and property values fluctuate year by year.

Santa Ana's assessment roll for 1928, exclusive of operative property and corporations exempt from local taxation totalled $17,336,988 according to the state's records, and in 1926 it rose to $18,854,898. The assessed value in 1928 was expected to set a new record.

Field workers, under the county assessor's direction, will assess the value of real estate inside and outside the municipalities of the county, of non-operative real estate, of improvements inside and outside municipalities, of personal property, money and solvent credits, operative property assessed locally and the grand total of all property. The grand total value of all property in Orange county in 1926 was $17,743,304.

The appraisers will ascertain the number and amount of college and veteran exemptions. In addition, they will assess the number and value of all cattle, hogs, sheep, poultry, automobiles, and the variety, number, acres grown and value of all bearing and non-bearing fruit trees, grape vines and field crops in the county.

The entire report of taxable property is then turned into the county clerk and the state board of equalization to keep for the period of equalization which begins July 3 and ends not later than July 16.

The money derived from such taxes is kept by the county and the report is kept by the state. The statistics are kept on record so the state will have an accurate picture of the county's value, and for use in the event of a deficiency in the state's treasury.

MOTHER REMEMBERS SORROW

After Mrs. C. W. Woodside of Kansas City, Kan., had been fined $100 for whipping her daughter, Lorena, with a coat hanger, the 16-year-old girl went home contritely begging that another beating be given her for the trouble she had caused. But only forgiveness and embraces welcomed her return, for the mother remembers that she ran away from her grandfather 23 years ago in order to escape a whipping. This picture shows Lorena, left, and Mrs. Woodside, who is planning a trip to her grandfather's home in Sheridan, Ark., where she will seek his pardon for the sorrow she once caused.

ANALHEIM POSTAL RECEIPTS INCREASE

ANALHEIM, May 2.—If postal business can be taken as any criterion, the population and general prosperity of Anaheim is decidedly on the upgrade.

According to report by Postmaster J. H. Whitaker, this morning, the Anaheim postoffice has just closed the largest month it has yet experienced this year receipts during the month of April, just closed, totaling $4,961.94 as compared with $4,353.23 for the same month last year.

Receipts during the four-month period just ended totaled $17,181.17 an increase of $1,459.83 over the total receipts for the same period last year, Postmaster Whitaker reported.

Postal receipts for the first four months of this year were as follows: January, $4,584.01; February, $4,888.98; March, $4,884.04, and April, $4,961.94 indicating a steady but consistent gain from month to month.

Physicians, is almost certain not to develop the intestinal disorders which, 30 years ago, carried off so very many young children.

"There is room in many California communities, however, for improvement in saving of infant lives. While it is true that some of the cities of the state maintain excellent records, other communities are apparently willing to tolerate high infant mortality rates without taking steps to reduce them."

mortality rates," said Dr. Dickie. "It is obvious that if all deaths are registered and all births are not registered, the death rates for infants will be correspondingly high.

The California infant mortality rate for 1927 reached a new low rate of 63 per 1,000, having dropped from 85 in 1918 and from 128 in 1908. The infant mortality rate for the United States is 72, which is considerably higher than California's average.

California's pure milk supply for babies—particularly during the summer months—also is given credit for the splendid record in saving lives of infants.

"No other diseases take more infant lives than intestinal disorders," Dr. Dickie continued. "The infant who has an abundance of air space in the home, with plenty of sunlight, who is clothed to suit the weather, kept scrupulously clean, and fed in accordance with the simple common-sense direction of the family

INFANT DEATH RATE IS LOW IN SANTA ANA

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register.)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 2.—"California—A Paradise for Babies."

How's that for a highfalutin' advertising slogan? What's more, it is based on fact, according to no less an authority than Dr. Walter H. Dickie, director of the state department of public health, who says the Golden State is rapidly being made more safe for babies.

And Santa Ana, which has cut down its infant mortality rate to only 64 per 1,000 of estimated population, is aiding in the process, according to Dr. Dickie.

Although the best records on the Pacific coast are held by Portland and Seattle, in California the cities of San Francisco, Berkeley, Alameda, Willows, Long Beach, Santa Monica, San Diego, Richmond, Vallejo, San Jose, Los Angeles and Oakland have exceptionally low infant mortality rates, the state's records reveal.

"Complete registration of all births is undoubtedly the most important factor in reducing infant

SECRET ORDERS UNLAWFUL IN S. A. SCHOOLS

Students of Santa Ana high school and junior college who aspire to join Greek letter fraternities must wait until they attend a state university.

If they affiliate with secret societies while in secondary schools they are liable to be expelled, according to a ruling of the California board of education.

Every Santa Ana high school student is expected to abide by this rule, as well as every student attending Santa Ana junior college. It is pointed out by Sam H. Cohn, deputy state superintendent of public instruction.

"The state law is very clear in its meaning," said Cohn in explaining the law. "It defines secondary schools in the state as high schools, technical schools and junior colleges, and the law forbidding secret societies is as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any pupil, enrolled as such in any elementary or secondary school of this state, to join or become a member of any secret fraternity, society or club, formed from the membership of pupils attending such public school."

This ruling of the state board rounds the death knell for several strong national high school fraternities—at least as far as California is concerned, educational authorities point out. Some of these societies have been flourishing in high schools offering courses of college grade, on the theory that the law did not apply there.

In schools where such societies now exist, they must be disbanded immediately, according to the state board of education. Proof of membership is sufficient cause for expulsion from school, unless the student disavows his connection with the fraternity.

California's anti-fraternity act for high schools was adopted by the state legislature in 1909, following a series of incidents in which students were seriously injured by hazing, as part of the fraternity's initiatory rites.

Principals of a large number of high schools, alarmed at the spread of the fraternity system, reported to the legislature that such societies were subversive of good and destructive to student morale.

Airplanes Ruin Farmer's Crops

YAKIMA, Wash., May 2.—Airplanes are ruining the crops in the vicinity of the Yakima municipal airport farmers have complained to the city council.

The dust kicked up by the planes in taking-off and landing is choking the fruit and truck crops, the farmers report—and furthermore, they say, the planes are making life miserable for them because the dust, entering their homes and settling on the furnishings, is likewise ruining their wives' dispositions.

NEA Milwaukee Bureau
Spring's in the air, or visitors at the Washington Park Zoo in Milwaukee would not yet have seen this little polar bear cub. On the warmest days the mother brings it out of the dark den where she has kept it hidden for about 16 weeks. So carefully does she guard the youngster between her powerful paws that zoo attendants have been unable to touch it.

Severities For Mexican Rebels

MEXICO CITY, May 1.—Although rebel activities in several of the central states, particularly Jalisco, seem to have increased rather than diminished lately, the military authorities of the state of Michoacan say that most of the rebels there have been starved out.
The principal Michoacan group, says the statement, were annihilated on March 18 and 19 in several battles which resulted in numerous dead and wounded. Among those killed also in a later encounter was Pablo Aguilar, a local leader, according to the custom in such cases. Aguilar's body was exposed publicly for several days. The purpose is to prove the death of the rebel as well as to show by example the results of treason to the government.

AUTOIST KILLS "GHOST"
YORK, Ala., May 2.—A superstitious autoist is blamed by police for the death here of Mrs. D. A. McDonald. The official theory of the tragedy is that fear prompted a passing motorist to fire at the woman while she was walking in her sleep, dressed only in a nightgown. Because her young son's suit was clutched in her hand, it is believed she had started for the home of a relative where the boy was visiting.

ORANGE AVIATOR GOES TO HOSPITAL

ORANGE, May 2.—Earl C. Granger, who was injured Sunday morning when his airplane fell 100 feet on the Irvine ranch, was taken to Los Angeles today.
An X-ray examination revealed the fact that Granger suffered a broken jaw in the fall and he will be placed in the care of a dental surgeon for treatment.
Granger's injuries were confined to his face and head and at first it was thought no broken bones had resulted from the crash.
Granger was accompanied to the Los Angeles hospital by his wife and her sister, Miss Blanche Hill.

ARMY CAMP IS TO OPEN SOON IN CALIFORNIA

By EARL H. LEIF
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—The infantry, the infantry, with the dirt behind their ears, they can lick their heels in wild-cats and drink their weight in beer.

The cavalry, artillery, or the dirty engineers—

"They couldn't lick the infantry in a hundred thousand years!"

This old familiar army marching song will once again be heard from a thousand lusty throats when the 194th infantry encamp at the new National Guard summer home at San Luis Obispo, July 1.

The infantry song will probably be in answer to the "song of the calicoes" sung by the 143rd field artillery, the first to initiate the camp on June 15.

This is going to be a real honest-to-goodness old army camp, according to Adjutant General R. E. Mittelstaedt, commander of the California National Guard, who has been working as hard as any private in the engineers to have the camp completed in time to receive the first contingent.

General Mittelstaedt claims that this new camp—which is the first permanent cantonment this state ever had—is the most complete and best equipped National Guard camp in the United States, not even excepting New York state's.

There will be a brand new swimming pool, 50 by 100 feet, and "swimming call" will be heard twice a day. And of course, "mess call" will be heard three times daily. "Reveille," that gentle, persuasive, penetrating, silvery, vibrant (the adjectives are exact terms, which all good soldiers like to hear, will shatter the silence of early morn every day at 6 a. m. Sunday, however, the bugler will let the guardsmen sleep till seven.

The swimming pool, post exchange building, barber shops, and adequate kitchen ranges for the camp were not provided for in the federal or state budgets. Nothing daunted and by way of showing their enthusiasm for the new camp, the California National Guardsmen, by means of dances, entertainments and donations, have raised a fund of more than $20,000 to furnish these things. The fund was expected to reach $50,000 before the camp opens.

"It won't be long now!" the field artillery is saying.

NORTHERN J. C. CONFERENCE IN MEET SATURDAY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, May 2.—Athletes of the California Coast conference, who met here Saturday in the annual clash between members of the league, have been setting excellent times and distances in the duals.

Raymond Ehat, Modesto sprinter, has better times to his credit than other sprinters of Stanford or other California schools, having won the 100-yard dash in 15.4 seconds.

Bill Hubbard, San Jose quarter-miler, is the class of the conference with a mark of 50.3 seconds. And another San Jose runner, Captain Aylett Sparks, would be in a class of the Pacific Coast conference in the half if he had competition to force him. Sparks running the race alone got off to a 3 minute flat 800 against the California Frosh.

Modesto contributes another stellar athlete, Captain Alvin Fogelotti, who has fine marks in the hurdles. Fifteen flat in the high sticks and 24.3 flat in the low are nothing to be sneezed at. Then San Jose can come through with a high jumper, Hal Hawley, who also broad jumps past 22.6, and throws the shot. Allinger of Chico is equally good in the hurdles.

Sacramento contributes a high jumper, Jordan, who has been climbing six feet with regularity, a mark which with the exception of King, the larger college men have been hard put to duplicate. Adcock and Woolley, San Jose men, have cleared 5 feet, 10 inches.

Adcock also adds in the pole vault with a mark of 12 feet, though his teammates, Wool and Berry of Modesto, are out by themselves there, having cleared 12 feet in the Modesto-San Jose dual.

Farrell, Allinger, and Sundquist form a good trio in the javelin, having the stick out over 175 feet. Farrell is from Modesto, Allinger, Chico, and Sundquist, San Jose.

Tom Hall is the best discus thrower of the conference having made a mark of 131 feet in the Sacramento-San Jose meet.

Eddie Shea Wins Bout At Olympic

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Eddie Shea, Chicago featherweight, won eight out of 10 rounds from Midget Mike O'Dowd, Ohio, in their bout at the Olympic auditorium last night.

The fight was slow. O'Dowd's best work was in the first and fifth. He lost effectiveness by persisting in long range tactics. Shea kept a left stinging to the head and peppered with a right to the body. After the fifth things were all his way.

broad scale.
"Athletics in the school should be part of an educational nature, rather than business," Nelson said. "The new sectional plan is excellent. It would eliminate much of the long distance traveling which is not only expensive but also takes the student away from his studies for long periods of time."

"Because of the large number of high schools in California, teams must play about three times as many games as they should in order to win a state championship. Last season, one high school football team played 14 games. No university would ever think of playing more than seven."

The new ruling would not mean the abandonment of the California Intercollegiate federation, Nelson explained, but would rather mean uniting part of the duties of his office with those of the federation.

Mike Hall First As Pimlico Opens

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, Md., May 2.—H. P. Headley's Mike Hall came from behind in a thrilling stretch drive to win the $25,000 Dixie Handicap before a throng of 20,000 which came to the Hippodrome for Pimlico's spring opening.

W. M. Jefford's Man O'War colt, Scapa Flow, was second and the Seagram stable's Sir Harry third. The winner's time was 1:59, Mike Hall paying $12.70 in the $2 mutuels.

ATHLETIC GIRL NOW REPLACING DANCE FLAPPER

and I don't smoke nor drink and I don't get. I love to dance and I never miss the chance to spend an evening with a nice date. I don't believe I am just one of a type because I believe the majority of the girls my age are taking better care of themselves than the girls did two or three years ago.

"I would advise girls who want to be popular and have nice boy friends or to become good looking, up athletics. The boys like to go around with a girl who is known as a good athlete and to entertain her. That's one direct result and a second and equally important one is that athletics are conducive to good health and good health produces good looks."

Athletics Improve Health
"I didn't take up athletics to become popular and acquire boy friends in becoming good looking. I had to do it because of my health. I was so delicate as an infant that my parents almost despaired of raising me and a few winters ago I had to go to California. I took up athletics then and the results were so beneficial that I took second prize in a health show last year and would have won first place if I had not been a pound under weight."

Many male athletes think training is a drag because they have to give up drinking, smoking and eating promiscuously, but Miss Filkey says her mode of living is about the same the year around.

"I have to give up pickles, candy and pastry when I am in strict training but otherwise I live about the same all the time," she said. "I am going into training for the Olympic games and then I am through with dances, movies and parties and I will be in bed early every night. The good feeling that results more than makes up for the sacrifice, however."

Miss Filkey has received many offers of offers to capitalize on her talents but she does not intend to become a professional. "My parents wouldn't permit me to if I wanted to as I have another year before I finish school," she said.

She has her mind set on a career, however, but guess what it is? She wants to be a sports writer and she is going to take a course in journalism.

In older days a runner would carry a flaming torch, and as he fell out of the race would hand it on to another to carry farther.

Hollywood Gives Walk His Release

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Frank Walsh, obtained last winter by Hollywood from the Boston Red Sox for $250,000, gave his unconditional release today, the Pacific Coast league club announced. Bad legs and inability to get in condition was given as the reason for turning him loose.

Halt Excavators In Italian City

NAPLES, May 2.—Clandestine archaeologists had their labors interrupted at Calvano in the region of Campania recently, when a report that they had discovered some pre-Roman tombs came to the ears of the authorities.
Professor Maiuri of Naples National museum sent an inspector to Calvano, who found that a peasant proprietor and the local fireman had unearthed two fine sepulchral vases, amphorae and other objects of considerable interest, through which it was possible to fix the date of the tombs as the fourth century B. C.

A squad of government workmen succeeded in excavating four similar tombs containing human bones and, without doubt, considerable value.

All objects found by the amateur excavators were confiscated.

FIRST FLIGHT AT 115

James H. Henshaw was at 115 in 1898, the oldest man in this country. He was the first to ride the other day and seems to have been in the picture since. Henshaw was born in Ireland in 1812 and came to America in 1832. He was an athlete in his youth and has experienced very little sickness—although twice in the last three years he has been injured in automobile accidents.

PLACENTIA HEARS STATE PARK PLANS

PLACENTIA, May 2.—H. H. Henshaw of Laguna Beach, addressed the chamber of commerce Tuesday on the state park bond act, which has been passed by the legislature and approved by the governor and will be put up to the people for ratification at the election on November 6. This act provides for a sum of money to be set apart for state parks, a like appropriation to be supplied by territory surrounding the park by local tax. Henshaw had information pertaining to the establishment of one of these parks on the coast between Newport Beach and Serra. The proposed site would cover 63 square miles of territory and furnish public beach to citizens from a distance. Action of the chamber in backing the move for a coast park was deferred until further information could be gained as to what would comprise the territory that would have to be bonded.

Among other guests at the luncheon were R. H. Gilman and Gilman Jr., guests of Winthrop Brown. Mr. Gilman was one of Placentia's first settlers, having come around Cape Horn to get to California.

The Rev. Mr. Manshardt was appointed chairman of the committee to provide ways for the delegates to the World Sunday school convention to be held in Los Angeles to see the surrounding country.

SUBJECTS ASK KING FOR MONEY, ADVICE

STOCKHOLM, May 2.—Judging from the enormous number of letters which King Gustaf of Sweden receives constantly, thousands of his subjects regard him as a kind and benevolent old uncle who has nothing else to do but straighten out their private difficulties and give a word of good advice in time of trouble.

Strange and varied are the requests which farmers and servant girls, workmen and school children ask of their monarch. One person addresses him for permission to marry although not of age; another asks for a higher old age pension; a third demand that his children be returned by a welfare institution; a fourth asks for money to build a house; a fifth begs the king to buy him a cow so that he and his family may get milk.

Numerous missives are sent by "cranks" an inmates of insane asylums. Regardless of how pathetic or ridiculous many of these letters may appear to the king, who personally reads every one, a thorough investigation is immediately made to ascertain whether the writer is in earnest or not. This search is made through the various government departments, who in turn report on the outcome of their quest. Very often it is found that the applicant is either demented or in possession of a tremendous audacity, with which he tries to bluff the authorities to render him help in one way or another. In certain cases, however, the requests are bona fide, and are granted in the proper way.

Charlton, auditor and Mrs. Ethel York, treasurer.

The Rev. Frank M. Dowling addressed the assembly on "The Importance of Training the Child for his own as well as for Society's Sake."

Monroe Shrine In Virginia Opened

FREDERICKSBURG, Virginia, May 2.—The James Monroe Shrine, dedicated to the memory of President Monroe, author of the Monroe Doctrine, was opened here on the 25th anniversary of his death.

The shrine consists of the little one-story law building where James Monroe established himself as an attorney-at-law, and to which he brought his bride. The movement for its establishment was instituted by Laurence O'Connell, a great-grandson of the president.

After considering various possible memorials, Mr. O'Connell considered that the most representative would be the quiet old, two-story building on Charles Street in this historic city, where Monroe came after his service in the Revolution to hang out his lawyer's shingle. A pupil of Thomas Jefferson, he made a place for himself in the life of the town as he was soon elected councilman. The building was built with a collection of money which brought from Sweden in 1812, the president's visit to the White House, and upon which was written the immortal Monroe Doctrine.

Society "Bookies" Latest In London

LONDON, May 2.—The society bookmaker is becoming a familiar figure at the fashionable race courses in England, and many young men prominent in the social register have adopted this means of earning a living.

Shopkeeping as a means of increasing one's income has become so popular among young women of fashion that society saleswomen no longer cause any surprise. A number of society men are also engaged in selling gramophones.

Among the latest to take up bookmaking is Sir Joseph Tichborne, who will attend the most important race meetings as the representative of a well known London firm, and receive a commission on his takings.

The society bookmaker will not appear as a "check-sulted hyena" of the trade, but will attend the races as an ordinary spectator and take betting cards from his friends. It is expected that his services will be welcomed by women at the races, who may place their bets quietly and in comfort.

Great possibilities are seen in the titled "bookie" business, as the socially prominent bet handlers are expected to draw a large following from their own circles.

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food stays. The corrective is an acid neutralizer—neutralizes acids, soothes the stomach, and the best alkali. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is the best. It is a gentle laxative. It has been used for generations with perfect results. It is a safe, reliable remedy for all cases of indigestion, constipation, and all the ailments that follow from an over-acid stomach.

Who Gives Fireman His Due

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

First came the burnished furnace crashing over cobblestones, sparks flying from its smoking chimney and from the feet of its three milk-white horses.

Next, the hose-cart. Then came the hook-and-ladder, swaying perilously as it turned the corner. They too were drawn by snowy steeds.

At the head of the adventurous procession rode Chief Crow in his buggy; at the rear raced half a hundred children. Over all the uproar could be heard the ominous toll of the big fire-bell.

Then and now I have loved a fireman. The picturesque pageant has changed somewhat, but the firemen are the same. I wonder if we give these friends of the people their due.

Not only are they willing and ready, like the sentinel at the gate, to protect the people from disaster, but in their unoccupied moments they are helping in other ways that few people know about, in roles of good Samaritans.

If you have clothes or other things to give away, and do not know of a needy family, go to your nearest fire station. Every fireman in town knows of people who need help. What is more, nothing will please them so much as to be of use.

Taxpayers who see firemen sitting idly in the sun are apt to criticize them. They do not stop to think that a soldier cannot be fighting every minute of the day. By the same token neither can a fireman be fighting a fire.

But when occasion rises, no matter how bitter the weather, he is there, ready to offer his life in your service. In the meantime he is doing more good than you know.

PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, May 2.—Mrs. E. K. Kirby and Mrs. H. S. Gaines spent Monday in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Ole Christensen motored recently to Forest Home where Mrs. Christensen has secured a cottage for summer use.

Mrs. Mary Key, who left some time ago to join her son, Dr. William Key, in Boston, is improving in health. She left while in very poor health, but was able to attend the banquet of the Grenfell association recently without the aid of her wheel chair. There she met Sir and Lady Grenfell, who are the main sponsors of the hospital work in Newfoundland. Mrs. Key and Dr. Key, who has for several years been in the Massachusetts general hospital for special work, are starting home May 10, stopping in New York and Washington, D. C., enroute.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Anderson, who are motoring through United States and Canada, are now in Detroit.

Wilma McFadden will enter the county spelling match from this school, with Kathryn Davis as alternate.

At the last meeting of the school board, only three teachers handed in resignations to apply next year. They were Della Leonard, Ruby Kampert and Mrs. Salveson.

Those from Placentia who enjoyed the annual trip of the Fullerton chapter of the Delphian society were Mrs. W. C. McFarland, Mrs. T. L. McFadden, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. McColloch and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Staley. The group visited the famous Huntington library and art galleries near Pasadena.

Within a short period, telephone communication will be established in South America between Buenos Aires, the capital of the Argentine republic, and Montevideo, the capital of Uruguay.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

Time was when Sylvia Fankhurst was quite content with the name she gained by smashing windows, hunger-striking, and doing all the tricks in the militant suffragette's bag. But that came to an end some time ago. Evidently Sylvia is about ready for another cause, for the other day she introduced her baby son to photographers and reporters to whom she only announced that the baby was produced without benefit of clergy, that she didn't consider marriage a subject of legal contract, and that "my union with my husband is entirely free." She would not tell her "husband's" identity.

"LOVE BABY" EPIDEMIC
Miss Fankhurst's "sugarcane baby" is the second publicity noted case within the past few weeks. What Sylvia is to Britain Mrs. Louise Burnham, well-to-do society woman, was to New York. Both women merely put into execution the old slogan of "the right of every woman to at least one child and no questions asked."

The rapidity with which our social laws and traditions are changing indicates that Miss Fankhurst may not be so far wrong when she says, "I believe that the tendency of the future is in this direction, and that posterity will see nothing remarkable in my decision."

HOW ABOUT IT?
The social stigma on illegitimacy came about, of course, in an attempt to protect both mother and child. It was the natural viewpoint of an age when women were not self-supporting. Most of the arguments supporting this attitude of the outrageousness of producing illegitimate children are supposed to be rather weak when up against the fact that women are self-supporting nowadays. But personally it's hard to quite see how even a self-supporting woman is going to continue to be self-supporting if she has a child. Me thinks the plain old-fashioned attitude works the most good for the greatest number. One notes that most of the lady producers of "sugarcane babies" are ladies who don't need to worry about finances.

JUST A SAMPLE
The demands of a baby are so unexpected. Babies have such a naive habit of even making their first bow to a waiting world during such catastrophes as fires, floods and earthquakes. For instance a little girl was named Bernice out in Two Rivers, Wis., the other day because she was born while her parents' house was afire and firemen were chopping holes in the roof. It's things like this that make us believe it might be hard for just a woman alone to have and care for a baby, no matter how keenly she felt her right to one, if she wanted it, under any circumstances.

TRUE TO FORM
May English, described as "the best known pickpocket in the country," gave her son and daughter a college education without either of them suspecting the source of their mother's wealth. Which is no surprise to anyone. Most of us have observed

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAE COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNOCK

(Read The Story, Then Color The Picture)

The old wheelbarrow rode along, and Cloway burst out into song. "We are a happy bunch," he sang, "as happy as can be. The garden is a real good friend, 'cause on him we can all depend. He'll take us to his garden, where we'll see what we can see."

"When everything is said and done, this ride is really heaps of fun. We travel over the hillside with a bumpy-bumpy-bump. But, shucks, if we all hang on tight, I'm sure that things will be all right, and we won't fall whenever we hit a rough place with a thump."

"My goodness," said the garden man. "Sing on some more. You surely can! I like to hear your voice ring out. It makes me feel so glad." "All right," said Cloway, "here I go!" And he kept singing, high and low. The other Tinsies clapped their hands. It really wasn't bad.

And then the whole bunch heard him shout, "I've sung the blisful unconsciousness of the average modern youth as to how or where parents get the kale which their offspring spend so blithely. Their only concern is that they get it somehow, for frat dances and corsages and matinee tickets and trappes must be paid for."

THEY CAN, TOO!
"More married women are working for pay outside the home than ever before," says Miss Mary Anderson, director of the women's bureau of the department of labor, "because of debt from illness or the buying of homes or any of the high-priced necessities of modern life. About the only prejudice against the married woman worker is from other women."

And, after all, other women have the same "privilege" of holding down two jobs if they want it. Why criticize married working women for ambition and the assuming of lots of hard work?

BREAKFAST—Halves of grapefruit, cereal, cream, breakfast spinach, bran and raisin muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Creamed finnan haddock on toast, new cabbage in lemon juice, maple tapioca pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Veal pot roast, boiled potatoes, scalloped tomatoes, celery and radishes, rhubarb pie, milk, coffee.

A veal pot roast is never dry and "chippy" as an ordinary oven roast is apt to be. After evenly searing the surface of the meat the heat should be reduced to the minimum and about 4 tablespoons of boiling water added. This insures against burning and provides sufficient moisture.

Creamed Finnan Haddock
One and one-half cups flaked finnan haddock, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon Worcester sauce, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1/3 cup chopped green pepper.

Wash fish well, cover with boiling water and simmer just below the boiling point for ten minutes. Drain and remove all skin and bones. Separate into flakes. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and add Worcester sauce, minced parsley and chopped pepper. Heat thoroughly and pour slowly onto egg yolk slightly beaten. Beat with egg beater and add prepared finnan haddock. Heat over hot water but do not let boil. Serve on square of hot buttered toast.

OUT THE THEATER

WEST COAST WALKER
Intimate glimpses of life behind the scenes in a theater are blended into vivid and gripping drama on Lon Chaney's latest screen sensation, "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," which comes today to the West Coast-Walker theatre.

The new Herbert Brenon production based on the celebrated stage play and produced on a lavish scale stars Chaney in the role of a tragic clown on the stage by Lionel Barrymore.

The picture is one of the most pretentious Chaney productions in years. Chaney, as the clown, making his great sacrifice for the woman he loves, has a role which runs the entire gamut of acting. In the theatre scenes he is a comedian, in grotesque antics, acrobatic tricks, and lifting laughs—then, in the dramatic scenes—beaten, in the dramatic scenes—beaten, in the dramatic scenes—beaten.

Elaborate reproductions of European theatres, in which entire vaudeville shows ranging from tight-rope acts to trained elephants are seen, are spectacular details.

YOST BROADWAY THEATRE
Richard Barthelmess, star of "The Patent Leather Kid," now at the Yost Broadway theatre, traced recently the origin and early history of the tank which plays such an important part in the war sequences of the screen epic.

Barthelmess learned that a British engineer, before the recent World war, had noted the exceptional climbing performances of an American tractor. This was the germ that eventuated in the monster tank. During the course of the war the Germans developed the machine gun to such a deadly effect that the tank, an iron-clad warship rolling on a caterpillar tractor, was the only thing able to withstand it.

The word "tank" was originally devised for purposes of secrecy. In 1915 the British and French commenced experiments which resulted in the former building what they named "Mother" in February, 1916. A small number of these tanks were first used by the British in September, 1916, which, according to military authorities, was a grave error because it revealed the idea without gaining the advantage possible in the unexpected drive of a large number.

WEST END THEATRE
The story of "The Magic Flame," feature film at the West End theatre, opens in a tiny one-ring Italian circus playing the towns along the Mediterranean where Ri-ance (Vilma Banky), the tight rope walker and parachute artist, is in love with Tito, the clown (Ronald Colman).

Prince Vittorio, of Myra, travelling incognito, meets Biana as she lands from a parachute jump and immediately falls in love with her. He haunts the circus and incites the antagonism of Tito.

BUILDS HOUSE HONEYMOONERS ATOP TREE FOR

HELLAM, Pa., May 2.—A cottage in the tree tops, surrounded by a myriad of brilliant colored lights and overlooking a placid little brook—that is the honeymoon ideal as conceived by Morgan Emig, a farmer near here.

And the strange part of it all is that Emig has built this love nest for the benefit of others and it has already been used by honeymooners from all parts of the country.

Situated among the branches of a huge buttonwood tree, the cottage is equipped as thoroughly as any of its size on the ground, containing electric lights, dishes, stove for cooking, complete bedroom and living room suites and has porches on three sides.

To approach the love nest, one must first enter Emig's farm and traverse the quarter mile between the main highway and the cottage.

Steps Up Tree Trunk
On arrival there is a flight of steps leading up the trunk of the tree to a height of about 25 feet, where they turn and lead out along a branch to a spot directly over the stream where the cottage is located.

The cottage rests on beams supported by steel cables and was built about eight years ago. "I first got the idea when a bunch of kids wanted to build a treehouse and I said, 'I'll wonder why a substantial house could not be made there and started work. Each year I make improvements and added a little something to do, but now, in my estimation, it is about perfect," Emig said and he was not far wrong.

The cottage is weather proof and even has a back yard. Scattered about among the branches and amid the many-colored lights are chairs and benches for use in the summer as Emig says his house is occupied virtually the year round.

Accommodates 26
Aside from its use by honeymooners, Emig rents the cottage for parties, dances and like social gatherings. A radio is provided with two loud speakers, one of the speakers being located in the cottage and the other in the top of the tree.

"At one time there have been as many as 26 persons dancing in the cottage and at card parties there have been four tables in play," Emig said.

"Of course, it is making me money, as it is in use the year around and I charge rental for the use of it but the biggest kick I get out of it is from the honeymooners and others who get the benefit of it," he said. "And I have a lot of fun improving it." Emig believes in advertising and at night the tunes from the loud speaker can be heard on the main York to Harrisburg road a quarter mile away and the lights in the huge tree can be seen from a great distance, resembling a monster Christmas tree.

Upholstery can be protected from germs by the scents of common plants such as thyme and geranium.
